Getting to Olbia

Its favourable geographical position places Olbia within easy reach both by plane and ship. If you choose the first, on the airport website (www.geasar.it) you will find low cost companies connecting Olbia to many international airports or Meridiana company, connecting to Rome and Milan.

Both ferries and fast ships grant frequent cruises (different duration) to mainland: Genova, Civitavecchia, Livorno, Piombino.

Olbia has even a railway (town centre) and coach station, so to explore archaeological sites, natural beauties, traditional enogastronomic events and sightsee around the island.

Deluxe hotel chains or small refined ones, bed & breakfast or farmhouses, camping sites by the beach or rural accommodation perfectly equipped for your wellbeing, resorts plunged in the smells of the Mediterranean maquis: everything is at hand, either in Olbia centre or in its outskirts (max 12 km. away), either you ask for sea, countryside or hills, including:

- Pinu mountain, a veritable natural reserve with wild animals, water springs and rocks shaped by the wind;
- Tavolara (a rocky island 500 m. high) and Ceraso promontory: together they form the marine protected area, with dolphins and sea endemisms.

Being the coast rich in inlets, everyday, depending on the wind, you can choose different bays to sunbathe; sand is white and water crystal clear.
